Avananches.

There are avalanches of different kinds, but when the term "avalanche" is used it is generally supposed to apply to falls of great bodies of snow or ice, says Mr. Edward Whymper in the London Strand Magazine. One of the first occasions of this kind which attracted attention took place in 1820, upon Mont Blanc, and it is commonly called the Hameel accident. Dr. Hameel, a Russian, set out on Aug. 18 to go up Mont Blanc, accompanied by two Englishmen and eight guides. They had ascended to a height of more than 14,000 feet, with five guides in front, who were cutting or making steps, when all at once the snow above them gave way, and the members of the party were carried down a thousand feet or more over the slopes up which they had toiled. Snow again broke away above and a acre or less covered them. Some of them struggled out, but three of the leading guides were hurled into a crevasse and buried under an immense mass of snow. The bodies of these men reappeared at the foot of the glacier thirty years afterward.

Two Bits of Wood.

Importance cannot be reduced to a matter of size. The success of a piece of work may depend on a tiny detail. Such is the case in regard to that marvel of construction, the violin. Rev. H. R. Haweis in his "My Musical Life" tells of the care and labor expended on two tiny pieces of wood which go to make up the perfect whole. The sound bar is a strip of pine wood running obliquely under the left foot of the bridge. A slight mistake in its position, looseness or inequality or roughness of finish will produce that hollow, teeth on edge growl called "wolf." It takes great cunning and a life of practical study to know how long and how thick the sound bar must be and exactly where to place it in each instrument. The sound post is a little pine prop, like a short bit of cedar pencil. It is the soul of the violin, and through it pours all vibrations. Days and weeks are spent in adjusting the tiny sound post. Its position exhausts the patience of the maker and makes the joy or the misery of the player.

Moving on Short Notice.

I was lying on the floor of an old country log house one summer day near a big open fireplace when I heard a peculiar, frightened squeak. I got up to see what looked like a huge mouse moving at a very rapid walk across the room. When I got a closer look I saw that it was a mother mouse moving her whole family. At least I hope there was none left behind, for very soon a small snake, but large enough to put into a panic the mother of four less than half grown children, came through the empty fireplace and after the little fugitive. The mother mouse had two in her mouth, and fastened to either side of her, apparently holding on with their mouths and for "dear life," were the other two. I killed the snake and watched the moving family disappear through a hole in the corner. I do not know whether they returned through the empty fireplace and after the mouse put up a "To Let" sign and joined them in a foreign country, but I do know that I saved a happy family.—St. Nicholas.

The Creditor's Letter.

Here is an interesting letter received by a well known English tailor in reply to a "final" application for settlement of a long outstanding account: "I have much pleasure in informing you that I have placed you on the list of my creditors, your number on the roll being 103. In view of your name appearing so far down my list and in common fairness to my other creditors who have been on my books now for some considerable time, I am afraid I cannot hold out the slightest hope of the 'early' settlement which you ask for. I think it will be well, therefore, if you discontinue forwarding your frequent reminders, which can do no possible good and which are a constant source of annoyance to me."—London Pick-Me-Up.

A Doubtful Outlook.

A woman in evident distress was standing at her door. "What's the matter, Mrs. Brown?" inquired a neighbor. "Oh, I don't know what to do!" was the reply. "Bill's away at the foot-ball match." "Well, what about that?" said the other. "Ah," responded Mrs. Brown, "you don't know Bill! When his side wins he gets on the loose, and when they lose he comes home and whacks me. They've played a draw today, and I'm sure I don't know what he'll do this time."—London Express.

Variety.

"I can't see why you don't like hotel life," said Mrs. Granbery. "It revolves a woman of all her cares and gives her so much spare time. Now, honestly, don't you find that home cooking becomes rather monotonous?" "Not at all," replied Mrs. Park. "Wig, my dear, we have a new cook every few weeks."

Fair Offer.

"Can you tell me how to live 100 years?" The philosopher stroked his beard thoughtfully. "I will try," he said, "if you can give any good reason for wanting to live 100 years."—Philadelphia Record.

Earlier Yet.

Chulman—I understand, sir, that you began life as a newsboy? Guest of the Evening—I fear some one has been fooling you. I began life as an infant.—Philadelphia Gossip.

Old Wheel of Fortune.

In the village church of Comfort, near Pont-Croix, in western Brittany, is a very good specimen of the now rare "wheel of fortune." It is made of wood, with a row of bells on its outer rim and pivoted between a couple of rough beams, altogether very primitive workmanship. By means of a cord attached to a crank the wheels can be made to revolve and set all the bells a-jangling. I have often heard that the peasants believe that it has miraculous power of healing when rung over the head of a sufferer who has placed a son in the box to which the rope is attached. I received remarkable confirmation of this belief, for while making a photograph a well-to-do sailor's wife and her husband came into the church and looked round. The woman asked me if I thought there could be any truth in this belief, as her child was very backward in learning to talk. Her nurse, who came from those parts, had advised her to bring the baby and hit it with the bells of Comfort over his head, when he would be sure to talk. As she was passing she had looked in to see if it was worth trying!—London Chronicle.

The Smooth Way.

In the last generation Tyler Cobb, Esq., was a well known citizen of North Bridgewater, near Brockton, Mass. He was famous throughout Plymouth county for his witty retorts and dry humor. Never having taken a sea trip, Mr. Cobb one day conceived the idea of making a voyage to New York. Accordingly he sailed from Boston in a small schooner. The first day out a storm was encountered and Mr. Cobb became violently sick, but after several hours he mustered up courage and strength to look out upon the troubled waters.

As he looked from the side of the little ship up the trough of the sea it seemed very smooth to him. The captain's cutting of the waves was senseless, he told himself. But as this mad steering continued the unhappy passenger finally crawled out on hands and knees to where the captain stood at the wheel and, raising his voice above the din of waves and wind, shouted: "Man, man, keep in the ruts, keep in the ruts!"

Worked It Off.

Just what may happen to a man who isn't strictly honest was illustrated on a street car a few days ago. A man handed the conductor a dollar and asked for a strip of tickets. He received five live tickets, and then the conductor fumbled around for change and managed to make a "mistake." He handed the two half dollars instead of 75 cents. The man put away the money without saying a word and in a couple of minutes worked his way to the front of the car and got off. "Say, conductor," said an interested observer, "did you know you didn't give that man the right change?" The conductor smiled complacently. "That's all right," he said. "If he'd been honest and returned that half dollar I'd have given him a good quarter for it. I've been trying to get rid of that piece of money for a week. I guess he deserved to get stung."—Philadelphia Record.

Deserted Appearance.

A remarkable experience once befell Mark Twain in Australia, which he said determined him never again to judge by appearances. He had just landed at an Australian port, and to his chagrin, there was no porter in sight to carry his luggage. Seeing a rough looking, badly dressed old fellow leaning idly against a post with his hands in his pockets, the author beckoned to him and said: "See here, if you'll carry these bags up to the hotel I'll give you half a dollar."

The man scowled darkly, and, taking three or four golden sovereigns from his pocket, he deliberately threw them into the sea, scowled at Mark Twain again and walked away without a word.

Both Tainted.

"You are in the employ of that mill-honoree up on the hill, aren't you?" snapped the sharp faced woman who ran the butter and egg shop. "Yes, ma'am," responded the man in the white apron, "and I want two pounds of butter for my master's table. He said he'd send to town after it, only the roads are so bad." "He did, eh? Well, we are not particular about his trade. Did you tell him I said his money was tainted?"

Indeed, I did.

"And what did he say?"

"Said so was your blamed old butter."—Chicago News.

A Fixed Law.

"You are positive this happened on Tuesday?" demanded counsel. "I am," said the witness. "Sure it was Tuesday?"

"Yes."

"Why not Thursday or Friday?"

"Because we had chicken that day. Chicken day is Tuesday where I board."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Cook's Declaration.

The cook picked up an egg. She looked at it doubtfully. "It's bad," she said. She dropped it. "It's worse!" she hastily added.—Exchange.

Not Acting.

Actor—All the newspapers say my impersonation of Cicero last night was absolutely real. rival Perhaps that's so. Everybody I've met says it certainly wasn't acting.

Preserve your just relations to other men. Their misdeeds do not affect your duties.—Epictetus

Proved His Theory, but Died.

The acme of realism was reached, though by accident, in a criminal trial a number of years ago at Lebanon, O. Two men had a personal encounter. One of them after vainly trying to draw his pistol from his hip pocket turned to flee. A moment later he fell, shot in the small of the back. One chamber of his pistol was found to have been fired. His assailant was tried for murder. The defense contended that the man had shot himself while trying to draw his pistol, which had become entangled in the lining of the pocket, and that the prisoner's shot had not taken effect. The prosecution contended that such a wound could not have been self-inflicted. The defendant's counsel, Clement L. Vallandigham, undertook to demonstrate to the jury just how the dead man's pistol had hung in the pocket and just how possible it was to inflict such a wound. Suddenly there was a loud report, and the lawyer sank to the floor. The ball had entered the back almost in the identical spot where the dead man had been shot. The defendant was acquitted. Mr. Vallandigham died.—Exchange.

Westminster Abbey's Poets' Corner.

Turning from King Henry's chapel, with its wealth of fancy's "fair frost work," to the poets' corner in Westminster abbey, we are attracted by a spell mightier than that of carved stones in the presence of those "serene creators of immortal things" who have enriched our literature with gifts beyond all price. This "glorious company of papers," as they have been termed, says a writer in Great Thoughts, have won a fame in the glow of which that of statesmen and warriors wanes and perishes, "conceded to death by divine eyes." Drawn together, as it were, by the spell of Chaucer, our first warbler, what Spenser calls "black obolion's rust" has fitted to furnish their golden record. We move entranced amid the memorials of Dryden, Ben Jonson, Spenser, Shakespeare, Beaumont, Milton, Gray, Addison and many more, including the long-respected peasant singer, Robert Burns, and the great Victorians, Robert Browning and Alfred Tennyson.—London Standard.

Encouragement.

"I have a splitting headache," sighs the beautiful young thing.

"Have you ever told magnetic healing?" asks the obliging young man.

"No. What is it?"

"You rest your head, thus, on my shoulder, and I pass my arm about your waist in this manner. Now be perfectly calm and see if this does not relieve you."

The position is maintained for five or ten minutes, and then the obliging young man asks:

"Does your head ache any more?"

"Yes."

"Well, I'm sorry I don't seem able to relieve you."

He is about to remove his arm when she looks up at him chidingly and says:

"It seems to me that if you have any confidence in your method you would be willing to keep on trying."—Chicago News.

Why She Shut Down.

"A charming gentleman about four years old used to pass my house every day on his way to kindergarten," said a lady, "and in course of time I made his acquaintance and gave a penny to him each morning when we parted. "Eventually his mother requested me not to give any more money to him. The next morning I did not present the usual penny. He did not seem to notice the omission. The succeeding day when the penny was not given to him he said nothing. But on the morning of the third day when the penny was not forthcoming he sidled up to me and whispered: 'What's the matter? Ain't your husband working?'"

Uncertainty of Lion Hunting.

A lion is a fearful animal. Do not run away with the idea that he is not dangerous. You may have luck to kill twenty, but No. 21 will likely get you. However careful and good a shot you may be, there is the greatest danger in tackling a lion. I remember Colonel H., who had lived in Africa for nine years and during that time had never seen a lion, and the first lion he saw he wounded and got badly mauled, saying to me: "Here, man; you have been here only sixteen months and have killed five lions. Chuck it, man, while you are in luck. They are bound to get you if you go on hunting them."—Forest and Stream.

Practical.

Elderly Gentleman (putting his head in at the door)—Mrs. Wilkins, will you be my wife? I have £2,000 and a good home. I'll give you three minutes to make up your mind.

Mrs. Wilkins (promptly)—I've £3,000 and a better house than yours, and I'll give you three minutes to get out of this.—London Tit-Bits.

The Whole Story.

"I hear you are giving up your charge," said one aged and infirm minister to another the other day. "How are your people taking it?" "Oh, well," was the answer. "I'm resigning and they're resigned."—Liverpool Mercury.

Bright and Hot.

"Smith got off a bright thing the other day."

"What was it?"

"A lighted cigar some one had carelessly dropped into the chair he sat on."—London Fun.

H. H. GRANICE, Editor.

Portland, Oregon, for some time under the domination of the long haired reformers, elected former Senator James Simon as its Mayor last Monday by a majority of two to one. As the newly elected official made his campaign for a wet open town the victory was a back-set to the prohibition advocates.

EQUALIZATION OF COUNTY TAXES

The State Board Will Make a Move in the Matter

Alexander Brown of the State Board of Equalization addressed a large number of taxpayers at a meeting held in Santa Rosa last Tuesday under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of that city. He stated that the State Board was determined to bring about a move for an equal assessment of property throughout the State.

Mr. Brown reminded his hearers that the law demands that the assessment of property in California shall be based upon its cash value. This, however, had been lost sight of and state and county assessments had got into a rut and it was the intention now to get out of that rut, he said. The last legislature appropriated $25,000 for the employment of experts to visit counties and judge property values this year and next. The speaker stated the State Board had held many conferences as to how the money appropriated could be used to the best advantage and to accomplish the best results. The plan finally decided upon was for the State Board of Equalization to visit each county seat in the state, meet with either Board of Trade or Chambers of Commerce, and get those bodies to undertake the appointing a committee of men thoroughly competent to judge of property values in their respective counties, to appraise certain property selected by the State Board, and furnish a report on properly prepared blanks, the State Board paying the necessary expenses incurred by the work. All the State Board asked was for reliable information.

The selection of appraisers in the respective counties was a much better plan in the board's opinion than the appointment of experts, say from San Francisco, Sacramento or elsewhere to undertake the work for the entire state. The State Board, he said, had come to Santa Rosa to meet with the Chamber of Commerce to ask if they would fall into line with other Chambers of Commerce and undertake the work suggested.

The proposed equalizing of the assessment, while it might not find favor with some individual taxpayers, would collectively benefit each county, Mr. Brown said. It would mean that with an increased assessment, or one more equally distributed, tax levies could be reduced as they should be. He said it was high time that California should employ some closer business methods in her assessment. This year, he said, the State Board of Equalization meant to demand that property everywhere throughout the state be assessed for at least sixty per cent of its actual cash value. By cash value he said he did not mean an inflated value. In the proposed appraisal of property values Mr. Brown said grazing lands will not be included as a criterion, as he believed they were assessed high enough. In the selection of a hundred sample pieces of property in Sonoma county for appraisal the State Board will particularly deal with orchard, vineyard and grain lands.

Mr. Brown said he hoped to see the time when each county would arise its own revenue for government purposes within its boundaries and when the revenues for affairs of state would be raised by taxation of public service corporations. He mentioned the taxation of railroads at four per cent of their gross earnings, a plan adopted a few years ago by the State Board in this state.

The Chamber of Commerce after discussing the matter decided to take up the work suggested by Mr. Brown and appoint a committee of three to carry out the plan of equalizing the assessment in Sonoma county.

In the appraisal of the property selected by the State Board, in the event of pieces being marked for appraisal in the vicinity of Petaluma, Healdsburg, Cloverdale, Sebastopol or Sonoma, it is understood that the committee of Commerce in those respective cities and ask them to name a committee from their respective organization to appraise the properties in that vicinity so as to divide the work and keep everything harmonious.

The members of the State Board present at the meeting were Alexander Brown, J. Scott and R. F. Collins. Secretary T. B. Eby and Expert Miley accompanied them.

Married in Santa Rosa

Miss Dorothy M. Chase and William H. Von Hacht secured a marriage license from the County Clerk in Santa Rosa last Saturday morning and shortly after were married in that city. The groom, who is a bookkeeper in Cleve's store in this place, is only 19 years of age, but his father, John H. Von Hacht of Santa Rosa, gave his consent to the marriage of his son.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Chase of this place and is one year younger than her youthful husband. The young couple will make their home here.

Death of Detective Silvey.

Detective Silvey, for many years identified with the police department of San Francisco, passed away in Green's sanitarium in this place yesterday morning. The remains will be embalmed and shipped to the metropolis today. The deceased was born in New York 65 years ago and had lived in San Francisco since 1854. He was a prominent Odd Fellow.

Accident.

Peter Ragusci of Agua Caliente met with a painful accident Wednesday. While riding on a hay rake in a harvest field the horses ran away and he was thrown from his seat and dragged a considerable distance. He suffered a scalp wound and a deep gash in the right leg. Dr. Hay's attended to the man's hurts, and took five stitches in the leg.

Passed Fictitious Check.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan arrested Harry Reed, a stranger here, Wednesday, and lodged him in the county jail in Santa Rosa pending his preliminary examination. The prisoner is accused of passing a fictitious check for $5.00 on D. F. Crane of El Verano.

Brief News Items.

An attractive cottage is being erected on Riverside avenue, El Verano, by Louis Peterson, the lumber dealer of that place, on the lot he recently purchased from Mrs. C. C. Carriger. A pleasant rumor reports that Mr. Peterson will not occupy the new cottage alone.

Now is the time to lay concrete sidewalks. See Trudgen, the stone mason, about it.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so? The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and unwritten in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N.Y.

Bicycle Thief Abroad

A Tribune bicycle, belonging to Harry Lutgens, which had been left standing in front of Lutgens' store was seized by a bicycle thief Saturday night, who mounted the wheel and made good his escape. Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan is on the trail of the thief and the prospects are that he will be apprehended and the wheel returned to the owner.

FATAL ACCIDENT ON SPRECKLES RANCH

Young Man Falls Fifty Feet from Derrick and is Instantly Killed.

George Delong Kynock, a young man 21 years of age, employed on the Spreckles ranch with a well-boring crew, was instantly killed on Friday afternoon of last week. While working at the top of a derrick fifty feet above the ground, a pulley broke and the unfortunate young man was precipitated to the ground. His lungs were perforated and he received other injuries that caused instant death.

The remains were brought here and laid out in Bates' undertaking parlors, where an inquest was held Saturday by Coroner Blackburn, the verdict of the jury selected to inquire into the manner of death being in accordance with the above facts. The remains were shipped to San Rafael Saturday afternoon, where relatives of the deceased reside.

This makes the fourth life that has been lost in sinking the well on which Kynock was working when he met his untimely end. Last year the other three victims were killed by an explosion of dynamite which they were lowering to the bottom of the well.

Board of Supervisors

At Wednesday's session of the Board of Supervisors the members informally discussed the raising of the liquor licenses in Sonoma county beginning with the new license year. It is believed that this will be done. This will be one of the methods of raising the fund necessary to pay off the bonds for the construction of the new court house, as well as some of the principal.

Before adjourning the present session the Supervisors will select two members of the County Board of Education, to succeed O. F. Staton and W. C. Nolan, whose terms have expired. It is generally conceded that Mr. Staton, whose work on the board has always been highly satisfactory, will be elected to succeed himself. Mr. Nolan, who is taking a special work at the State University, will not be a candidate for re-election. W. C. Cunningham of Bloomfield and Mr. Staton were selected for the positions Thursday.

DRIVING CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Decides to Give Big Race Meet Here on Monday, July 5th--Other Matters

At a meeting of the Sonoma Driving Club held last Tuesday evening it was unanimously decided to hold a big race meet here on Monday, July 5th. With this object in view the following committees were appointed:

Printing—Jos. Ryan, Dr. A. M. Thomson and M. E. Cummings.
Refreshments—Thos. Millerick, Gus Marcy and Ernest Campbell.
Gate and Tickets—Jep Valente.
Construction—Jack Murray.
Track—J. Millerick, J. Watt and Tony Silva.

Program—Dr. A. M. Thomson, Joe Ryan and M. E. Cummings. Jack Millerick was chosen Marshal for the Day and before the meeting adjourned City Marshal Jas. H. Albertson was elected an honorary member of the club.

It is the intention of the club to make the coming event one of the most attractive race meets ever held under its auspices and many speedy horses will compete for the purses.

A committee will wait upon our citizens for donations to make up the purses to be competed for and to assist in defraying other expenses for the meet, which will attract a large crowd here on July 4th and 5th. We trust all will liberally respond.

HYDE RANCH TO CHANGE HANDS

Reported to Have Been Sold to

Umbson & Co., of San Francisco

The Hyde ranch, located three miles south of town and comprising 600 acres of rich land, is reported to have been sold to Umbson & Co., the real estate firm of San Francisco.

It is known that Umbson & Co. had been negotiating for the purchase of the property for some time, and the news of the consummation of the sale does not come as a surprise.

It is understood that the owner of the property, Wm. H. Hyde, will reserve fifteen acres and his home, where he will continue to reside.

The Hyde ranch is one of the finest properties in the Sonoma Valley, and although we are not advised as to the amount paid for their new holding by Umbson & Co., it must have cost them a small fortune.

The ranch will be subdivided into five, ten and twenty acre tracts and the new owners expect to sell every acre in the big tract before next winter.

Lost—Purse containing money and papers. Lost on Broadway. Please return and receive reward. Mrs. Norrbom, Broadway, below High School.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NOTES.

Doings of the Various Sets in Both Town and Valley.

Capt. J. Johnson spent Saturday in the metropolis.

Miss Lillian Bulotti is visiting friends in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Abramo Marcucci of Embarcadero were in Santa Rosa Tuesday.

Louis Breitenbach, J. J. Nunes and H. F. Clark transacted business in Napa Thursday.

Mrs. Chas. Reigelhuth is here from the metropolis visiting at the home of Mrs. Kate Buchan.

George Bulotti of San Francisco was here Sunday, the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. Bulotti.

The Catholic ladies of St. Francis Church will hold a big Fair in Union Hall in this city next October.

Mrs. Bainbridge and two daughters of San Rafael are here visiting their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Lewis.

Attorney H. P. Mathewson transacted legal business in the Court House at Santa Rosa on Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. Lund, formerly of this place but now residing at Piedmont, was presented with a baby boy one day last week.

Dick Van Hooser gave a party Tuesday at the home of his parents in honor of his cousin, Madeleine Best, who is visiting the family.

A. S. Luce, Jr., bookkeeper in the Sonoma Valley Bank, accompanied by his wife, spent Saturday and Sunday with Santa Rosa relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Doyle and children of Oakland were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Julius E. Poppe on Sunday. Mr. Doyle is a brother of Mrs. Poppe.

Raymond Poppe left for the Yosemite Valley last Saturday. He made the trip with a party of San Francisco friends and will remain in the valley two months.

The closing exercises of the primary class of the grammar school were held Thursday afternoon. The program consisted of songs, marches, stories and recitations.

Mrs. Duncan E. McKinlay and children, who have been spending the winter in Berkeley, have returned to their home in Santa Rosa. Congressman McKinlay, who is still in Washington, is expected home some time this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kerner, who returned to Sonoma last week after an absence of over a month in a fruitless search for a better location for a home, have decided that Sonoma is good enough for them and will relocate here. Their many friends in this valley, where they have resided for so many years will be pleased to know this.

A party of eight enjoyed a stag dinner at Boca's resort between this place and Warfield station last Tuesday evening. They made the run up to the resort in Jack Gotenberg's automobile. The spread, served in a style known only to the Italian culinary art, is described by the boys as being a feast fit for the gods. Those who composed the party of epicures were: Messrs. Paul Robin, Eugene Oppinger, A. Beretta, P. Yenni, Geo. Goess, J. M. Modini, Roy Pauli and Neil Trudgen.

Dr. John F. Bateman, V. S., attended the regular quarterly meeting of the California State Veterinary Medical Association, which convened in San Jose last Wednesday. Dr. Bateman is a member of the association and stands high with his fellows. The clinic was held in Browning's Hospital in the forenoon and at noon lunch was served at Alum Rock Canyon. The afternoon session, in which Dr. Bateman took a prominent part, was devoted to the consideration of the administrative affairs of the association and to the reading of papers.

Sale of Poulson's Blacksmith Shop Declared Off

The sale of Fred Poulson's lot and blacksmith shop to a party in Redding has been declared off by Mr. Poulson. Upon second consideration the sale of the property for the figure first agreed upon, eighteen hundred dollars, looked to him like giving the property away so he has refused to close the deal by selling for that sum. Mr. Poulson has now concluded to remain in Sonoma and can still be found at his old stand on Napa street. See his ad in another column.

County Funds

The moneys in the custody of County Treasurer Glen E. Murdock have been counted by Chairman Herbert W. Austin, of the Board of Supervisors, District Attorney Clarence F. Lea and Chas. A. Pool. The book balance was found to be $431,096.98, and the actual cash in the hands of the treasurer twenty-five cents in excess of that amount.

SONOMA VALLEY LIQUOR LICENSES

Three Applications are Granted and One Rejected by the Supervisors

The Supervisors on Tuesday last were appealed to for five liquor licenses in this county, four of them being for summer resorts in this valley. Three of these were granted and two were refused.

Those whose petitions were granted were Louis Parente, Paul Vannucci and Italo Maffei. The latter, who is the owner of the old "Hunter Saloon" at Agua Caliente had his license granted conditionally and he must improve the property and convert it into a hotel. The licenses granted to Messrs. Parente and Vannucci were for their resorts, which are now in course of construction at Verano. These resorts combined when completed will represent an investment of between $25,000 and $30,000. Both will be conducted as first-class hostleries.

The application turned down was that of Harry Bernard, who asked for a license to conduct a saloon on the county road at Baxterville between this place and Petaluma. As one saloon license had already been issued for that locality there was a storm of protests from near-by residents and the Supervisors very properly denied Mr. Bernard's application. The other application rejected was for a saloon at Mirabel Park in another section of the county.

Rustic Fountain and Lawn

The rustic fountain and basin upon which C. Sherer, the stone mason, has been working with a force of men all week will be completed today. The fountain is set inside a rustic basin thirty feet in diameter, and a number of gold fish will be placed therein. Water for the fountain and for the grass plot surrounding it will be piped from the two artesian wells sunk by the city on First-street West north of Spain street several years ago. The flowing capacity of these wells was tested this week and found to be 35,000 gallons per 24 hours. These wells flow ten feet above the ground and as they are located on much higher ground than the fountain and lawn there will be ample pressure.

The ground for the grass plot has already been prepared for the seed which will be planted at once.

Dr. Bateman, D. V. S., Locates Here

Dr. A. J. F. Bateman, the well-known veterinary surgeon, has located in this place with his wife and four children and has permanently settled in the Dal Poggetto cottage on Second-street East. Dr. Bateman is a regularly graduated and licensed veterinary surgeon and his coming here will fill a long-felt want in the Sonoma Valley. The doctor stands high in his profession and is a member of the California State Veterinary Medical Association. We take pleasure in recommending him to our farmers and stockmen. His professional card appears elsewhere in these columns.

Palace Tonsorial Parlors

Paul Robin, the proprietor of this popular tonsorial establishment has engaged as his assistant Joe Silva, the well-known tonsorial artist of San Francisco. As Mr. Robin is a first-class artist himself one is assured of a good shave and an up-to-date hair cut if the Palace is given a trial. The trade of both town and valley is respectfully solicited. Give the Palace a trial.

For Coughs—Take This

Do you know a remedy for coughs and colds nearly seventy years old? There is one—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Once in the family, it stays. It is not a doctor, does not take the place of a doctor. It is a doctor's aid. Made for the treatment of all throat and lung troubles. Ask your own doctor his opinion of it. Follow his advice. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. You cannot recover promptly if your bowels are constipated. Ayer's Pills are gently laxative; act directly on the liver. Sold for nearly sixty years. Ask your doctor all about them.

CALENDAR DAY IN SUPERIOR COURT.

The suit of Sullivan vs. Canavacini was set for trial for Sept. 22. The damage suit of Brockway vs. P. G. & Co., will come on for trial on October 5.

The suit of Julia Barry vs. Susie A. Sartori et al. was on the calendar for argument on demurrer.

The suit of Malinda A. Post vs. Jerome B. Post was dismissed by consent of all parties.

Mary Culligan was named administratrix in the estate of James Culligan in a bond of $250. The matter of the estate of Felice Monica was continued to June 21.

Default was entered in the divorce suit of F. L. Bigelow against Nancy A. Bigelow, and the trial was set for June 11.

Resolutions of Respect.

To the Volunteer Fire Department of Sonoma:

Your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of our late brother, R. B. Fowler, respectfully submit the following:

Resolved, That while in the course of nature we must all bow to the Divine Power, which in the course of natural events removes us from this mortal world, yet we must regret the departure of our respected and companionable comrade, R. B. Fowler, "Bob" Fowler, was endeared to this company during the many years of his membership by his noticeable quality of unassuming manhood, gentleness of nature, kindness to all, and fidelity to his duty and companions. His monument will be the memory of the friends who knew him best.

Resolved further, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family, and that they be spread on the books of this company, and we further request that these resolutions be published in the Sonoma weekly papers.

Respectfully submitted,
J. B. SMALL,
J. E. POPPE,
M. E. CUMMINGS,
Committee.

METHODICAL BURGLARS.

The Ones John's Wife Was Sure She Heard Every Night.

There had been a number of burglaries in a certain suburban neighborhood, and the conversation at a social party turned naturally enough on burglars. Everybody had expressed an opinion except a quiet, elderly gentleman.

"Doesn't it make you nervous?" somebody asked him, "to think every night when you go to bed that you may be burglarized before morning?"

"Oh, we don't mind them," said the elderly gentleman cheerfully, with a glance across the room at his wife. "We're too well used to them, aren't we, Mary?"

"John," said his wife warningly, "don't be silly."

"Silly?" echoed he and turned to the others. "Now, that's her modesty. Those burglars have been trying to go through our house every night for two weeks; always get in through the dining room window too. But Mary hears them. Yes, sir, no sooner do they get through the window than Mary hears 'em and wakes me up. Fortunately for us, Mary is a very light sleeper."

"But it must be awful to wake up like that!" exclaimed one of the listeners.

"Rather disturbing the first night," continued the speaker, "but not so bad after one gets used to it. All I have to do, you know, is to get up and lock the bedroom door, and then the burglars go right back out of the dining room window. Very methodical, are they, not?" asked the elderly gentleman, chuckling, "for they always lock the window after them."—Youth's Companion.

THE GIRAFFE.

Africa's Second Story Worker With the Long Distance Neck.

The giraffe is the second story worker of the animal kingdom. It is a merger of the zebra and the camel and is also a distant relative of the palm tree. The giraffe consists of eight feet of neck equipped with a body at one end and a head at the other. In the matter of neck it has all the rest of the animal kingdom beaten by a length. The giraffe's mouth is located so far from its stomach that it has to eat today to appease tomorrow's appetite. Many a giraffe has starved to death while the first meal it had eaten for two weeks was slowly traveling its transcontinental esophagus.

The giraffe looks as if it had started out to be a zebra, but, having reached the shore, had kept on going. It is very dark in color, marked by yellowish brown stripes in a handsome fluted pattern. It lives on tree tops, eagles' nests and rainbows. During the Boer war the British army had some difficulty with giraffes, which formed a great liking for war balloons and frequently nibbled them during their flight in order to inhale the gas.

Why does the giraffe have a long distance neck? Persons given to the use of common sense will realize that Africa is rich in insect life as well as animal life and that all African animals carry innumerable parasites on their hides. The giraffe's head is so far from his body that a long neck is absolutely necessary in order that he may reach down and grab off a tick from his feckless when necessary. Even a child could see this.—Collier's Weekly.

Extracting Wood Oil.

Chinese wood oil is obtained from the nut of the wood oil tree by pressing or extracting. The color of the oil varies with the method of extraction. In China it is usually heated strongly and is consequently very thick and black. Wood oil forms a very durable lacquer for wood, far surpassing boiled linseed oil in hardness and permanence. The oil possesses the peculiarity of drying more quickly in damp than in dry weather. The residue of the nuts left after the removal of the oil is a good fertilizer, which possesses the valuable property of destroying insects which feed on the roots of plants.—Scientific American.

Scottish Miner's Wit.

An amusing anecdote was made by a miner at an ambulance lecture in Elphinstone, East Lothian. The lecturer had stated that if suffocation from choking was likely to ensue the simplest remedy to give relief (ill medical aid arrived was to take a fine pointed penknife and make a small incision in the throat. One of the miners then shouted, "Ye althra ken Elphinstone fells. If I was to try that the morn' here's what would happen: if that unit died in my hand and he got better he himself would be the first to prosecute me for cutting his throat."—Dundee Advertiser.

Spanish Railroad Trains.

The Spanish train averages possibly twenty miles an hour to allow one to make time exposures of the scenery. It makes frequent and long halts. At every station the guards run up and down, checking the name of the town and the number of minutes for each stop. At every station also the two military guards who accompany each train descend and walk around the cars, looking to see that no robbery is concealed. As there is at least one stop an hour these guards get some exercise before the day is over. They say this custom was adopted to drive away any brigands who might be concealed in or under the train and that it has been successful. These military guards are very fine looking men and wear an impressive uniform. We saw more than one black eyed searotic look approvingly after them as they passed by.—Outing Magazine.

HE COMPROMISED.

A Story John B. Gough Told In His Temperance Lectures.

John B. Gough, the temperance lecturer, was asked as a story teller, and his stories were always well suited to his argument. W. A. Mowry in his "Recollections of a New England Educator" recalls one of them:

"Compromise, compromise! What does compromise mean? I will tell you. A colored man met a friend one day and said:

"Sambo, Sambo, do you know dat toder night I was sure tempted? You know I used to steal. Well, since I joined de church I stopped stealing, but you know Mr. Jousings shoe store? Well, toder night I was in dat shoe store, and I looked on de shelf and I see a pair of boots, jes de nicest pair of boots jes my size, No. 14."

"Dere was de debil, and he say, 'Take 'em, take 'em. Den de Lord say, 'Let 'em alone, dat's stealin'. But I wanted dem boots; mine all out at de bottom and sides. Dere was de debil and he say, 'Take 'em, take 'em. But de Lord say, 'Don't you take 'em; dat's stealin'.' Now, dere was a clear majority of two against one."

"Jes den Mr. Jousing he leeb de store, and he leeb me all alone. Den de debil say, 'Take 'em quick and skeedaddle. I could take dem boots and chuck 'em under my coat and go right away an Mr. Jousing would never know nuthin about it. But, tress de Lord, I stood de temptation. I com promised and took a pair of shoes in stead."

What They Make Judges Out Of.

Justice David Brewer of the United States supreme court, during an address before the students of law at the University of Pennsylvania, told them one of the experiences of his judicial career at his own expense.

"It happened I was sitting at one time on a number of cases in which a good friend of mine was interested as counsel, and it also happened that in many of them my decisions were rendered against my friend's clients. One day after the completion of such a case we sat together talking, when a very bashful young man from the rural districts came in to see me bearing a card of introduction to obtain my advice upon the choice of a profession. 'What do you think you want to do?' I asked him. 'I kind of thought I'd better study law,' he replied, 'not that I want to very much, but because I guess I'd like to be a judge. They make judges out of lawyers, don't they?' he asked, somewhat hesitatingly. 'Once in awhile,' my legal friend replied before I could answer, 'Once in awhile they do, but not often.'"—Philadelphia Press.
